Given a growing work and a staff growing only in the capacity for the work, many details clamoring for attention must remain undone. The sorting of the pamphlet collection, begun last year, has proceeded very slowly, and another year may elapse before the pamphlet boxes will be fully employed to bring this mass into shape. A large consignment of important topographic maps, obtained from the Government to complete our files, have been awaiting our convenience for mounting and indexing. The transference of the government documents to the top stack and the wholesale shifting of the bound periodicals to make room for growth, which could not be effected last year as planned, come now into our expectations for 1914-15. Yet too much to do gives tremendous incentive, and our Library is what it is because our work never permits us to fold our hands....
