Spix's Macaw: The Race to Save the World's Rarest Bird

By Tony Juniper

Washington Square Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 304 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.3in. x 0.8in. The Spix's Macaw, if it survived and recovered, could inspire the world to see what was possible through cooperation and determined efforts to save the earth's natural riches. . . . On June 3, 1817, Johann Baptist Ritter von Spix set sail for the New World on an expedition sponsored by the Bavarian Royal Academy of Sciences. What he found in Brazil's thorny caatinga woodlands would one day transform our understanding about evolution, survival, and -- in the case of the long-tailed blue parrot now known as Spix's Macaw -- extinction. In this fascinating natural history, esteemed environmentalist Tony Juniper brings the caatinga bird beautifully to life. Not long after Spix's discovery, his parrot -- whose beauty, dexterity, and clear-eyed passion made it a favorite among scientists and bounty hunters alike -- had become more valuable than heroin, and worth thousands of dollars on the black market. By 1990, only one lone male was known to be living in the wild. Spix's Macaw tells the tale of Juniper's race to save the species, from joining an international rescue operation in the caatinga to calling on private...
